Reading

1 Read the following dialog. Why do you think art is connected with creativity ?

Because artists use their imagination to express ideas and emotions in new, original ways.

Student : Wow! I just walked through that modern art section in this museum. Some of the pieces are really amazing!

Art teacher: I'm glad you enjoyed it! Many artists here use different materials to create something original.

Student : I saw one sculpture made from paper and metal. It looked so special—I've never seen anything like it.

Do you like this style of art?

Art teacher: Yes, of course. I think it's a great example of creativity. Do you know that artists use their imagination to express ideas and emotions in new ways?

Student : Yes, of course. Some of this work might not be famous yet, but it's still beautiful and meaningful.

Art teacher: Absolutely. Sometimes recognition comes much later, because it can take time for people to connect with an artist's style.

Student : That makes sense. I think even simple art can have a powerful message.

Art teacher: You're right. Every piece is original in its own way, even if it isn't perfect. That's what makes art so special.

Speaking

2 In pairs, ask and answer questions, then switch roles.

1. What kind of materials did the artist use to make the special sculpture?

Paper and metal.

2. Why doesn't all art receive recognition immediately?

Because it can take time for people to connect with an artist's style.

Conversation Tip

Share your opinion and ask for your speaker's to make the conversation more interesting! In the museum, the tourist shared thoughts about the art. You can do the same-and then ask what the other person thinks!

For example:

- "This piece is so special. Do you like this style of art?"

Sharing your ideas and asking others makes the conversation more fun and helps you learn different points of view-just like in a real museum talk!

That simple art can have a powerful message.

3. What does the tourist believe about simple art?

4. If you were an artist, what would you like to make? Why?

I would like to make sculptures out of recycled materials to share a message about saving the environment.

3 Take turns being the Art teacher and the student. Switch roles, and create your own using the bold words.
